THE NEWSPAPERS AND GENERAL SHERMAN.—The New York Times has had several articles on the Stanton Sherman affair, in which it unqualifiedly condemns the General's absurd conduct. In its yesterday's issue, the Times says:

Unless all the reports that reach us from Washington are false, General Sherman is deliberately and ostentatiously making a personal issue with the Secretary of War for an official act. He took the occasion of a grand review ordered and held largely to his honor, and in the presence of a vast multitude assembled to rejoice in the return of peace to refuse the hand of Mr. Stanton when tendered to him in friendly greeting. And an article published in the Washington Chronicle in his interest and said to have been written by his brother, Senator Sherman, of Ohio, proclaims that unless Mr. Stanton publicly acknowledges the error of that official act, he "must expect open defiance and insult, and neither his person nor his rank can shield him." No circumstances can justify or excuse such language as this. It sounds too much like the extinct and effete chivalry of South Carolina, to be tolerated among sensible and judicious men. Even if General Sherman has sustained all the wrongs he seems to think have been inflicted upon him, he ought to know better than to seek redress in so childish and absurd a manner. He may gratify a personal feeling of revenge, perhaps, by "insulting" Mr. Stanton, but he cannot thereby change a syllable of the record which history will make of his acts. There may have been times when blustering menace and personal rudeness might affect the public estimate of the character and conduct of a public man, but that time has passed forever. No human being will think the better of Gen. Sherman as a soldier for insulting Mr. Stanton, but thousands and hundreds of thousands will think less of him as a gentleman of discretion, self-reliance and good sense.

The Herald gives the General some wholesome advice in the following peremptory style:

We would advise Gen. Sherman to stop his controversy with Secretary Stanton and Gen. Halleck right where it is. He has already carried it far enough. This attacking superior officers is a dangerous thing, and is liable to dangerous complications. If he is not careful he will soon find himself seriously embarrassed and encompassed with greater difficulties than that which he is trying to remove. His true course is to rest his case with the people, as the advocate, judge and jury. They have confidence in his ability and skill, and if he only allows them to settle his case for him he may have no fear of the result. They will see that his fame is not tarnished by any hasty attacks of officials. But if he undertakes to carry on the controversy himself he may soon find himself a mere creature of a small faction. He had better imitate the example and silence of his best friend, Lieut. Gen. Grant.

On the other hand all the Copperhead journals are "egging on" the irate General to further improprieties. Evidently they want another "martyr" for a Presidential candidate.

FATE OF FAST MEN.—The vicious die early. They fall like shadows or tumble wrecks and ruins into the grave—often while young, almost always before forty. "The wicked lived not half his days." The world at once ratifies the truth and assigns the reason, by describing the dissolute life of "fast men;" that is, they spend their twelve hours in six, getting through the whole before the meridian, and dropping into the darkness while others are in the glory of light. "Their sun goeth down while it is day." And they might have helped it. Many a one dies before he need. Young men of genius, like Burns and Byron, to whom when dissipated and profligate, thirty-seven is so fatal, and your obscure and usual wandering stars, who waste their time in libertine indulgence—they cannot live, they must die early. They put on steam till they blow up the boiler. They run at such a rate that the fire goes out for want of fuel. The machinery is destroyed by rapid speed and reckless wear. Nothing can save them. Their physical system cannot stand the strain they put it to, while the state of their minds is often such that the soul would eat the substance of the most robust body and make for itself a way of escape from the incessant hell of its own thoughts.

A TOUCHING INCIDENT.—The Chicago Journal of late date has the following:

"Hon. John Covode was in this city on his return from a Southern tour yesterday. He had lost two sons in the war, as he supposed, two years ago, and falling in with a member of one of their regiments who had just been released from the rebel prison at Andersonville, Ga., made inquiry preparatory to asking where the boys were buried. Judge of his surprise when he was answered 'You must be prepared to learn, Mr. Covode, that James (the youngest son,) could not come with us.' 'Is my boy alive, then?' he inquired. 'Why, yes. They couldn't kill Jim. He had too much soul. He was bound to live. He would have come with us, but he couldn't raise twenty-five cents, the price they demanded to release us.' 'Whether I would have cried more,' said the patriotic old man to us, 'to have heard the tidings that I had lost another son, than I did on receiving this intelligence, is doubtful.' The son is now on his way home by way of Richmond."

TOBACCO AND LUNACY.—It has been proved that the increase of lunacy in France has kept pace with the same augmentation of the revenue from tobacco. From the year 1812 to 1832 the tax produced 28,000,000f, and the lunatic asylums of the country contained 8,000 patients. The tobacco revenue has now reached the sum of 180,000,000f and there are no less than 44,000 paralytic and lunatic patients in the various hospitals devoted to their accommodation. This parallel has been drawn by M. Jolly and laid before the Academy of Science. The last words of his speech on that occasion are worth recording in this age of universal smoking, and young boys, to whom this pernicious practice has not yet become a second nature would do well to reflect, ere it be too late on the frightful warning the above statistics contain, as well as on M. Jolly's words. He says:

"The immoderate use of tobacco, and more especially of the pipe, produces a weakness in the brain and in the spinal marrow which causes madness."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

MONDAY MORNING, JULY 10, 1865.

Sovereignty.

C[illegible] and some of our own people w[illegible] outstanding our political sy[illegible] that [illegible] some whom we call [illegible] at the question of State and [illegible] supreme [illegible] how to distinguish between them. The more unfriendly opponents of our Government at home and abroad go still further than [illegible] and declare that the duty of the people of the South was plainly on the side of their respective States, and that when the question of sovereignty arose they were right in pronouncing against the General Government. This view entirely ignores the Constitution of the United States, and is equivalent to saying that except that of the individual States, there is no sovereign power at all. The direct reverse of this is true. Actual sovereignty, supreme power, belongs to the General Government alone. The States are denied the power to legislate in contravention of the Constitution, and all their acts are to be subordinated to the requirements of that instrument. Viewed intelligently, there can be no collision between State and National authority. It is only when the former attempts to raise itself above the latter, that difficulty ensues between them.

To say that the States are sovereign is but a perversion and misapplication of the word. The highest power of the Government must reside somewhere, and if it inheres in each State it cannot in like manner belong to the General Government. Supreme power is not divisible. The very term, "sovereignty" implies in itself the highest power. If the States retain this superiority, there can be no National Government. If their sovereignty is complete, it cannot be shared with any other political power. Where there is one sovereign there can be no room for another.

Before our Constitution was adopted, the several States were sovereign. The very fact that a new Government was created, having powers of a scope as extensive as those claimed by the original States, shows where the supreme power is now lodged. By the Constitution, every attribute of supremacy is taken away from the States. The powers which are left to them are not those which belong to and distinguish sovereignty. Certain rights are indeed reserved, and those are inalienable, but all the characteristics of supreme power are expressly [illegible] them by the National Constitution. For this there was a reason. It was intended to [illegible] a Government in which all the powers that give character to sovereignty might be so placed that there should be no strife about a matter, which if left unsettled, would be a source of ceaseless contention, such as was witnessed before the final dissolution of the Confederation.

Viewed from any position which does not insult even ordinary intelligence and wholly contradict our past history, it is impossible to understand how any can perceive a divided duty in respect to the [illegible] which is due from them to the sovereign power. So absurd an idea as that of the sovereignty of the States to the General Government could not have become so prevalent, had it not been for the constant efforts of demagogical politicians to inculcate it. In returning to the principles which were held by the founders of the Government, we must take care that every vestige of this pernicious doctrine of State sovereignty shall be obliterated.

Hang the Guilty.—It is now time for General Scott's system of "[illegible]" and judicious hanging" to begin. It would misbecome us to do anything hastily or vengefully, but after those who are accused of treason and murder have had an impartial and becoming trial, they ought, if proven guilty to be promptly hanged. If leading traitors are to escape after the courts pronounce them criminals, all the statutes against treason should be at once repealed, and the clause in the Constitution which relates to this crime, expunged and forgotten.

Under our laws slave trading has long been regarded as piracy and they who engage in it are punishable with death. Under the two administrations preceding Mr. Lincoln's no one was convicted of that crime, although the cursed traffic was carried on with unparalleled activity before the very eyes of the Government and our naval officers. Shortly after Mr. Lincoln's accession to the Presidency, the slave-trader Gordon was convicted in New York and hung, and it is positively asserted that since this prompt visitation of the penalty of the law, not a slave-trading vessel has been fitted out in a Northern port. So much for a single severe example.

A rigid enforcement of the law against convicted traitors will prove of equal advantage in discouraging future rebellions. The fear of punishment is one of the most potent springs of human action. It is often the only motive of restraint. A law which has no vindicatory clause is of no value whatever. Even worse than the effects of such an omission is this, is that cruel clemency which destroys the salutary influence of all law by a grant of pardons so profuse as to render the guilty innocent, and to make the laws a refuge from punishment instead of an instrument to bring the guilty to justice. Actuated by the very same motives toward those who are guilty of treason as we feel in regard to persons who have committed other high crimes, we expect traitors to be punished in the manner the law provides. And if any passionately assert that this course is dictated by party rancor, we merely answer that it is liable to this imputation in no greater degree than is the feeling which prevails throughout the civilized world, that the life of a murderer should atone for the blood of his victim.

Proceedings Reversed.—The English papers are raising a terrible tempest because President Johnson offered a reward for Jeff Davis, thus putting him on a level with a common felon. It may be well for these indignant gentlemen to remember that "President Davis," as they still call him once offered a reward for the capture of "Andrew Johnson and other rebel citizens of Tennessee." President Johnson's offer was but the same thing reversed. This time, however, the proceeding is fortified by legal authority, while in the case of Jeff Davis' pronunciamento, it did not have the sanction of law.

Resignation and Appointment.—We learn that W. T. Matlock, Esq., Receiver of the Land Office at Oregon City has information that his resignation which was sent forward to Washington three months since, is accepted. Mr. Matlock resigned on account of ill health. Henry Warren, Esq., of Yamhill county has been appointed as his successor.

Death of Gen. Early.—The eastern papers announce the death of Jubal Early, Sheridan's discomfited antagonist of the Shenandoah, "the valley of death." The old man died at Lynchburg, Virginia, whither he had fled unattended after his utter defeat last March. He has now gone to his final account, and it is for us no longer to judge him.

The San Francisco Flag, which has given Low, Conness, Sargent, and others, sundry pungent thrusts, has at last fixed upon its candidate for the U. S. Senate. Mr. Felton of San Francisco receives its support for that office.

The population of the city of Valparaiso is 70 10[illegible]

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JUNE 21.

Advices from Charleston.

New York, May 21.—The Herald's Charleston correspondent says: The delegation from South Carolina to Washington, whose arrival was announced by telegraph, will ask the early appointment of a provisional government for that State. Their first choice for this position is ex-Governor Aiken [illegible], General Gurney, commandant at Charleston.

The late rebel Secretary of the Treasury, Trenholm, was arrested at Columbia, taken to Charleston and placed in confinement.

Charleston has again assumed a business-like aspect. The work of rebuilding that portion of the city destroyed during the war, is in actual progress.

Wholesale merchants in Charleston are rapidly disposing of their stocks of goods. Purchasers from the interior are coming in in large numbers.

Heavy mortality prevails among the negroes in Charleston.

It is said that there are more than 100,000 bales of cotton along the line of railroad between Charleston and Columbia awaiting the completion of the line to be forwarded to market.

Washington, June 20.—Judge Wm. F. Nording and District Attorney Fox, Commissioners for South Carolina, have arrived from Charleston, and report that the people of that city, notwithstanding the great scarcity of money, paid into the treasury over $90,000 on account of taxes for which they were in arrears.

Among the applications for pardon to-day, was that of Bishop Lynch, Catholic Bishop of Charleston, who has been noted for his most bitter and virulent opposition to the Government. The petition was drawn up and signed by Bishop Spaulding of Baltimore and the Bishop of Buffalo. The tone of the petition is exceedingly humble and penitent.

New York, June 21.—Dr. Mackey, the well known Unionist, pronounces the Delegation just arrived from that city, to confer with the President on the subject of the employment of Freedmen in South Carolina, to be composed entirely of original secessionists and rebels throughout the war, and he regards their coming as an impudent insult to the United States.

Governor appointed in Georgia.

Washington, June 20.—Hon. James Johnston, the newly appointed Provisional Governor, left the city this evening for his State. Those who met Gov. Johnston here, are much pleased with his views on the subject of reconstruction. In the South he takes the strongest Union grounds, and will at once proceed to inform the people of Georgia what their true condition is and what they must do to organize a Government.

From Alabama.

New York, June 21.—A special dispatch to the Herald says that a quadrangular fight for the Provisional Governorship of Alabama, took place between W. H. Smith of Randolph, Lewis E. Parsons, of Talladega, D. H. Bonbain, of Athens, and D. C. Humphrey, of Huntsville, which prevented the appointment of either. Humphrey has the advantage of being Chairman of the Committee on resolutions at the first Union meeting in Alabama, held at Huntsville a year ago last winter. Parsons appears to have the most backers. His appointment is confidently expected. Hon. Horace Maynard, of Tennessee is here in consultation with the President. He is much talked of in connection with the vacancy in the bench Supreme Court, caused by the death of Judge Catron. Judge Sharkey of Missouri is also mentioned in the same connection.

Death of Mrs. Seward.

Peoria, June 21.—A special from Washington announces the death of Mrs. W. H. Seward, wife of Secretary Seward.

Suicide of Woodruff, who fired the first gun on Sumter.

Washington, June 21.—Woodruff, of Virginia, who fired the first gun on Sumter, committed suicide near Richmond on Saturday last by blowing out his brains with a gun. A memorandum was found among his papers, says the Richmond Republic stating he could not live under the Government of the United States and that he preferred death to doing so.

Thomas' Department.

Cincinnati, June 21.—A Nashville dispatch to the Gazette says: Thomas has issued orders allowing all persons north of the Ohio river to remain during the war to return, also abolishing the pass system over all roads and rivers in the department.

The Rebel Secretary Trenholm.

New York, June 21.—A correspondent of the Herald says: Trenholm, rebel Secretary of the Treasury, went to Columbia and reported to our Government that he was ready to deliver himself up at any time. He then lead off with a scheme to carry into effect the military emancipation orders. He was the first to contract with his freedmen, several hundred in number, not one of whom left him since the war began, for gradual emancipation. His ready adoption of the Government's views and example in Columbia have had a most salutary effect in that region. Subsequently an order was received from Gen. Hatch for his arrest. The order was promptly obeyed. Trenholm was brought under parole to Orangeburg in his own carriage and proceeded thence by rail to Charleston where he was lodged in jail in company with his son in law. Trenholm was forced to take the position of Secretary of the Treasury under Jeff Davis. He declined twice and was at last peremptorily ordered to report, at Richmond by Jeff in the following dispatch: "Your services are needed. Report here immediately."

The Young Men's Christian Association have purchased Ford's Theatre for ten thousand dollars.

The Mississippi Squadron.

Washington, June 20.—An order has been issued reducing the Mississippi squadron to fifteen vessels. Acting Rear Admiral Lee will remain in command. These gunboats are left at Red River. All wooden vessels and all iron clads, except the Tennessee and Missouri, are ordered to Memphis and will at once be put out of commission. All other vessels now in the squadron will be sent to Mound City, also to be put out of commission.

Stanton's Report.

New York, June 21.—Secretary Stanton's report of the operations of his Department for the last year of the war is published from which it appears that there were forwarded to the field 180,626 soldiers and mustered out and discharged 268,111. Over two hundred flags were captured from the rebels. There were 102,000 colored troops in service.

California News.

San Francisco, July 8.—The evening report of the Mulligan affair was correct, save that McNabb was killed an hour before Hart. Officer Hopkins was the policeman who shot Mulligan. The funeral of Mulligan took place this afternoon. The body was followed by about a dozen carriages containing his friends. The remains of Mr. Hart lay in state at the Eureka engine house, of which company he was foreman. The house is draped in mourning and all the fire companies have flags at half mast in respect to his memory.

Jacob C. Biedman [illegible] died this morning.

Colfax, Bross and Richardson will address the Union League at Platt's Hall to-night.

Miss Angela Starr King, a sister of the late lamented Rev. Starr King, arrived by last steamer. This lady has a natural gift of oratory and it is expected she will give a series of public readings soon.

The Telegraph.—This morning we present our readers with a small installment of Eastern news. More would have been forthcoming had not the atmosphere yesterday been in such a state as to make telegraphing from Yreka to this place impossible. There was so much lightning south of here during the afternoon that the line could not be worked. We shall have news as soon as it will work to Yreka.

The oldest son of the Czar of Russia and heir to the Imperial throne died at Nice on the 24th of April last. The young prince was in the twenty first year of his age.

President Jeff Davis.—The following, to the exclusion of many others, are taken from a late number of the Louisville Journal:

A disloyal paper says a few words for Jeff. Davis for the alleged reason that he himself has not the liberty of speech. Thus when Balaam was unable to speak, his ass spoke for him.

It takes several weeks for a tadpole to lose his tail and turn to a frog. Jeff. Davis tried it in a period when he dropped his breeches and turned to a woman was very short.

If Jeff. Davis were set down in play bills to enact the old woman of Brentford in the "Merry Wives of Windsor" what a crowd his house would have.

We don't believe that Jeff. Davis can bring any evidence that he is guiltless of the Washington murder, but since he turned woman there's no knowing what he may bring forth.

Jeff. Davis has been called windy, and he certainly resembled the wind when he shifted.

Jeff Davis when overtaken promptly gave in, but his crinoline stood out.

Jeff Davis tried to escape to the Gulf, but our troops brought him to bay.

Little did Jeff Davis's children think that their father was a woman.

Lieutenant Governor Bross of Illinois, in a late speech at Carson City said that he was in favor of hanging about fifty of the chief rebels. He was willing to compromise on [illegible].

City Ordinance No. 209.

AN ORDINANCE to prevent certain Animals from running at large in the City of Portland.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. That no horses or cattle shall be permitted to run at large in the city of Portland within the following limits, viz: Between Clay street in the city of Portland and C street in Couch's addition to the city, and to the eastward of Fourth street in the city of Portland, and of Fifth street in Couch's addition.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the City Marshal to take up any such animals found running at large within the above named limits in the City of Portland, and to confine and keep it or them in a pound or inclosure, and to provide any such animal or animals with proper care and food while so confined.

SEC. 3. The City Marshal shall immediately give notice of the taking up of any such animal or animals, with a description thereof, by posting the same in some conspicuous place at the Post Office in the city, and upon the pound or inclosure where such animal or animals are confined.

SEC. 4. If before the expiration of five days from the giving of such notice, or before the selling of any such animals, as hereinafter provided, the owner of any such animal or animals, or his legal representatives, shall claim the same and pay all legal costs, charges and expenses of taking up and keeping, the Marshal shall deliver up such animal or animals to such owner or his representatives.

SEC. 5. If any such animal or animals shall not be claimed before the expiration of five days from the giving of such notice, the Marshal shall proceed to sell the same at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, having first given notice of the time and place of such sale in a daily newspaper published in the city for at least forty eight hours prior to the time of sale, and after deducting his legal fees and all costs, charges and expenses of taking up, keeping and selling, shall pay the proceeds into the city treasury.

SEC. 6. The City Marshal, besides the cost of keeping any such animal or animals, shall be entitled to and receive as his legal fees, two dollars per head for all animals so taken up, and ten per cent of the proceeds of all sales when the amount shall not exceed twenty five dollars, and five per cent when the amount of such proceeds shall exceed such sum.

SEC. 7. If the owner of any property so sold or his legal representatives shall at any time within one year from such sale make satisfactory proof of his ownership, he or they shall be entitled to receive such proceeds so deposited in the treasury.

SEC. 8. All ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

OFFICE OF OREGON STEAM NAV. CO.
Portland, Oregon, July 7th 1865.

A DIVIDEND HAS THIS DAY BEEN DECLARED upon the Capital Stock of this Company payable on and after the 10th instant.
jul8td THEODORE WYGANT, Secretary.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN!

BY AUTHORITY OF THE SECRETARY OF THE Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent interest per annum, known as the SEVEN-THIRTY LOAN.

These Notes are issued under date June 15th 1865, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U S 5-20 Six per cent.
Gold Bearing Bonds.

These bonds are now worth a premium of nine per cent, including gold interest from November, which makes the actual profit on the 7-30 loan, at current rates, including interest, about ten per cent per annum, besides its exemption from State and municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

|---|---|
| One cent per day on a | $50 note. |
| Two cents | $100 |
| Ten | $500 |
| 20 | $1,000 |
| $1 | $5000 |

Notes of all the denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions. This is now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the

THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET

GREAT POPULAR LOAN
Of the People!

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market. This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks, and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

We were at [illegible] having the claims of this city recognized [illegible] at the head of the hub [illegible] it was thought by very many people that the words [illegible] Portland [illegible] In fact it was so [illegible] one did know what it really meant. However [illegible] Inspectors, and although they live in [illegible] the sacrifice they have sustained seems to have [illegible] that among the Solons of the Capitol that [illegible] abolish the Post Office at Portland [illegible] Courts hold here, the offices of Marshal [illegible] and Revenue Collector, but that they [illegible] all such places with officials on short allowances [illegible] and exact from everybody else their [illegible] gold coin. They seem to realize the truth [illegible] that Portland is in Oregon, and that the [illegible] State of the Union having never seceded [illegible] to secede. In evidence of the fact that we [illegible] "recognized" we have a late movement to [illegible] would otherwise be quite an unmeaning thing [illegible] to attain an important standing without [illegible] Federal patronage to which we are eminently [illegible] the commercial entrepot of a large and vastly [illegible] which makes the matter of a favor from the [illegible] when thought, the more singular [illegible] the memorials of our State Assembly [illegible] with the contempt of indifference. But [illegible] the newly appointed Brigadier General for [illegible] Department has orders for his headquarters [illegible] Lieutenant Vahn, Dr. Ten Broeck, Med [illegible] for the Department, are now here, and [illegible] a Day will make [illegible] and [illegible] move. We are somewhat anxious to [illegible] the next step will be taken by the Government [illegible] to the condition of matters at Portland."

[illegible] OF SANTIAM. — Hon. I. H. Moores of Salem [illegible] Senator on Saturday evening last [illegible] some very rich quartz and [illegible] [illegible] claim on the White Bull lode [illegible] specimens are unusually rich in gold [illegible] pay the greatest returns. From [illegible] is to be found sufficient of such rock. It [illegible] and quality similar to that spoken of on [illegible] from the same claim, shown us by Mr. [illegible] The rock created some sensation in the city [illegible] by hundreds of people at the office of Tracy [illegible] street. An assay of some of this rock [illegible] shows it to be of a fineness equal to $12 [illegible] We are making but slow progress in the [illegible] of the gold and silver resources of the Cascade [illegible] the mountains are too near [illegible] to developed, but if the same quality of rock [illegible] at some assay office in the city [illegible] the Three Tetons of Snake river, or [illegible] the Root mountains," hundreds of miles away [illegible] to be a gold [illegible] in less than twenty [illegible] and a day." The richest quartz that has yet [illegible] that has been taken from lodges nearer to [illegible] either of the remote districts above alluded [illegible] are tramping a long distance to find better.

[illegible] AFFAIR. — On Friday last a man by the name [illegible] Galloway, who was employed in logging for [illegible] Simpson, about fifteen miles below this city on [illegible] river, and a man named James Smith, [illegible] in a quarrel which terminated in a fight [illegible] Galloway was severely [illegible] The knife [illegible] in his back in four different places and once in [illegible] This last stroke broke the blade of the [illegible] and entered between the internal and external [illegible] of the skull bones, and required the concerted [illegible] to pull it out. Two men held the wounded [illegible] drew the broken blade from the [illegible] of [illegible] tongues. Dr. Chapman, Mr. Estes [illegible] went to the place and provided for the [illegible] care of Galloway as [illegible] possible [illegible] of the affair, and he was still [illegible] day was lately [illegible] of this [illegible] been for some time in the employ of the saw [illegible] Front street, above Main. Smith is [illegible] also are the [illegible] of the affair [illegible] He made his escape but [illegible] of him.

[illegible] The friends of two cities in Or[illegible], one [illegible] the other a rival, met on Saturday [illegible] the general prospects of their [illegible] conversation turned upon the [illegible] of [illegible] when our Portland enthusiast was "taken [illegible] following comparison of a dirty city which [illegible] related as having been the subject of a [illegible] Ken Dawes and a Parisian, on the beauties [illegible] Paris. The former considerably disparaged [illegible] favorite, when the latter replied tartly that [illegible] Naples was so dirty it was [illegible] "Admit [illegible]" says [illegible] the sky is pure and celestial." "Yes," re[illegible] "because it is beyond the reach of [illegible]"—and this is the comparison to [illegible] the clear air of heaven [illegible] or enterprise of Portlanders, it [illegible] the streets, too filthy for use.

[illegible] Shot. — William Bennett, a lad of some [illegible] son of United States Marshal [illegible] city, while spending a vacation of school [illegible] with family friends, went gunning on [illegible] and returning at noon was drawing a charge [illegible] of the piece when it discharged, lodging [illegible] of the [illegible] by fragments, and a [illegible] shot in his right arm and shoulder. Surgeon [illegible] the case, and extracted the particles of [illegible] with the wad-wonder, and dressed the [illegible] may not be [illegible] mortal. The boy [illegible] withstood the pain heroically.

[illegible] — Sunday is becoming with [illegible] a most [illegible] principle of a remembrance [illegible] the [illegible] it holy. People find that it is better to [illegible] day in seven, at any rate, and consequently [illegible] better purpose on Monday than they [illegible] by a disregard of the scriptural precept [illegible] of this city were doubly [illegible] from rest we were visited by a heavy [illegible] the first sprinkle for many [illegible] which [illegible] the day gloriously refreshing.

STATES DISTRICT COURT. — The July term of the [illegible] District Court, Deady Justice, now in [illegible] this city, will consume a greater part of the [illegible] On Friday last in the case of the United States [illegible] Hayes, judgment was rendered for plaintiff in [illegible] of $250. This was an action for the recovery of [illegible] of barley at Fort Dalles, in the winter of 1862. The [illegible] the case of the United States vs. Capt. Barnes of [illegible] ship Pacific was resumed.

[illegible] — The Portland branch of the [illegible] under the [illegible] of Mr. Edwin Russell, [illegible] thrown open for business. The location is in the [illegible] on Front street lately occupied by Wells Fargo [illegible] the purposes of an Assay Office. It has been [illegible] fitted up, and adds another quite important [illegible] the prospects and business of the city. The [illegible] of the Bank, in another column, gives the [illegible]

[illegible] This [illegible], by order of the [illegible] in our columns to-day. It is [illegible] rather for the [illegible] of cows [illegible] for many people who are annoyed by [illegible] "cow limits" are contracted to a very [illegible] of the city. It will not have the effect of [illegible] half the people who have cows in the city [illegible] fastened at night. The "law" is a [illegible]

[illegible] Several of the citizens of Portland [illegible] Powell's Valley, twelve miles East of the [illegible] the Camp Meeting of the M. E. Church [illegible] in that vicinity under the direction of [illegible] Roberts, Presiding Elder. Rev. J. F. De[illegible] Rev. Mr. McAllister and others.

[illegible] — The shower [illegible] afternoon which was [illegible] this city fell [illegible] Mount Tabor [illegible] that point [illegible] were still very [illegible] at five [illegible] afternoon [illegible] and there were no [illegible] signs of a rain storm.

[illegible] After a lapse of just [illegible] the [illegible] were compelled to abandon the [illegible] of their new wharf in this city by the rising [illegible] to-day resume their former quarters. The [illegible] now be made, and the shipping [illegible]

[illegible] — We have dates from the Sandwich [illegible] The barks Cambridge and [illegible] packets were [illegible] and [illegible] must both be nearly due at Portland.

[illegible] HEAVY ORDNANCE. — The large guns of Fort [illegible] and the Cape fortifications at the mouth of the [illegible] were made to belch forth on the Anniver[illegible] rounds. The guns are 8, 10 and 15 [illegible] and their reports must have given Astorians [illegible] of war.

[illegible] JONATHAN. — The telegraph informs us that [illegible] De Wolf Commander [illegible] on Saturday for Portland and Victoria [illegible] to-morrow.

A NEW PLACE FOR SETTLEMENT. — The great tide of emigration which has ever been steadily streaming toward the West is now likely to be arrested in part by a diverging current setting toward the South. The assimilation of the laws and customs of the various parts of our country unto each other will cause a more complete intermingling of the whole population of the United States than ever before prevailed. From the crowded North men of enterprise will go to the South to find room for the development of their plans of industry. No better field can be sought or imagined than our Southern States offer. From Europe the great masses of immigrants who have hitherto been kept out of the South by the presence of slavery will now go there. Professor Cairnes points out to the working men of England and Ireland that an immense territory is now opened to them which has heretofore been closed against free labor. In the Belfast Ireland [illegible] that distinguished man writes:

In Virginia the free population numbers only fifteen persons to the square mile. In the only [illegible] free States of the Atlantic coast, in themselves far less inviting to settlers, the population, over an equal area, is eighty-two persons to the square mile. Slavery and slavery alone has made this difference. It has defrauded not only the negro of his birthright but the superabundant population of Europe of a land of unequaled promise. The wrong done by it to millions in the old World is only less than that inflicted upon the new. When once it is removed and peace is restored there will be a rush of emigration from Europe and the Northern States to the South. A new population will arise, which not only will have no quarrel with the North and the Union but will owe everything to them, and which together with its descendants will, in the course of a generation, form the great bulk of the population of South. In this human deluge the relics of the old society will be submerged and lost. A homestead act for the South would bring to Virginia the prosperity of New York and enable Florida and Alabama to count wealth and men with Ohio and Illinois. To effect this end, there will be no need of confiscation. In the uninhabited or abandoned soil of the slave States are farms for millions of freemen.

THE CRIME AUTHORIZED. — Tucker, Sanders, Clay and other rebels in Canada, having grown furious because their names were associated with the agents of incendiarism and assassination, it will not be amiss to republish the proof elicited at the trial of the St. Albans raiders, which shows that the rebels were officially authorized by the Richmond usurpation to commit any crime against our people to which their murderous instincts might prompt them. Here is the document which was in evidence both at the trial of the thieves and homicides in Canada, and also during the investigation of the assassins conspiracy at Washington:

CONFEDERATE STATES OF AMERICA,
WAR DEPARTMENT,
RICHMOND, Va., June 16, 1864.

To Lieutenant Bennett H. Young:

LIEUTENANT: You have been appointed temporarily first lieutenant in the provisional army for special service. You will proceed without delay to the British provinces, where you will report to Messrs. Thompson and Clay for instructions. You will, under their directions, take such Confederate soldiers who have escaped from the enemy, not exceeding twenty in number, as you may deem suitable for the purpose, and will execute such enterprises as may be intrusted to you. You will take care to commit no violation of the local law, and to obey implicitly their instructions. You and your men will receive from those gentlemen transportation and the customary rations and the commutation therefor.

JAMES A. SEDDON,
Secretary of War.

THE PASSPORT ORDER RESCINDED. — The following official notice has been issued by the Secretary of State:

"DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, June 2, 1865. — Whereas, Pursuant to the order of the President, and as a means required by the public safety, directions were issued from this Department under date of the 17th of December, 1864, requiring passports from all travelers entering the United States, excepting immigrant passengers directly entering an American port from a foreign country; and whereas, the necessities which required the adoption of the measure are believed no longer to exist; now, therefore, the President directs that from and after this date the above order referred to shall be and the same is hereby rescinded. Nothing in this regulation, however, will be construed to relieve from due accountability any enemies of the United States or offenders against their peace and dignity, who hereafter may seek to enter the country, and at any time may be found within its legal jurisdiction.

"WILLIAM H. SEWARD,
Secretary of State."

THE INTERNAL REVENUE. — It is now certain that the entire receipts of Internal Revenue for the fiscal year which will end on the 30th of June next will not exceed $225,000,000, although it was estimated that the net amount would be $300,000,000. To secure a more efficient collection of the revenue, Judge Lewis, the present Commissioner, has been requested to resign, and Orton of New York has been designated as his successor. It is estimated that not one half of the duties fairly due on the single article of whisky have been collected, and a more vigorous administration of the bureau is called for. A board is now in session to revise the entire revenue laws and submit their report to the next Congress for enactment. If the work is honestly performed, it will aid the legislators, who have heretofore been too much governed by private interests, acting through well paid lobby representatives. — Cor. Union.

GETTING AT THE TRUTH. — The U. S. steamer Wachusett was the first of our war vessels to enter the port of Bahia, Brazil, after Capt. Collins captured the Florida there. She was received in a very friendly manner, and her officers were told that at the time of the capture the Brazilians did not make any fuss about it, but were incited by the resident English who asserted that "Brazilian neutrality had been violated, and their honor was now at stake;" with all this and a great deal more, but when the letter of Secretary Seward came out it pleased them so well that they raised a procession of over a thousand people, with the American ensign between two Brazilian flags at the head, and marched through the streets, crying out, "Viva la America," which of course displeased the "Johnny Bulls" very much, but their displeasure amounts to nothing, as they are not liked by the Brazilians.

THE CALIFORNIA AND OREGON RAILROAD. — The articles of incorporation of the California and Oregon Railroad Company, have been filed at Sacramento according to law. The capital stock is fixed at $15,000,000, divided into 150,000 shares of $100 each. From Marysville to the Oregon line, the distance is 286 miles. The work of building the road is to commence the coming autumn. This road will eventually be extended to Portland. As we have often said, it is necessary for the growth of our State. We hope to see our share of the work begin ere long.

THE CALIFORNIA REGIMENT. — The famous California regiment organized by Senator Baker lately returned to Philadelphia. At their last review they numbered but 150 men. When led by Col. Baker into the battle at Ball's Bluff, they were 1,500 strong. They fought through the whole war with unsurpassed bravery, as their sadly thinned ranks attest. The honor that waits on the memory of their noble leader is shared by the few remaining followers who have lived to behold the triumph of the cause for which their comrades died.

ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE, and all the people merely players, and we surmise that a large portion of the players thereon must be using that justly popular preparation for the teeth, "Fragrant Sozodont," from the immense demand there is for that article. Well it only proves that we are becoming wiser and wiser every day, for it truly merits all that is said in its favor, the most delightful, convenient and efficacious beautifier and preserver of the teeth the world ever produced.

THE STATUS OF PAROLED PRISONERS. — The interesting question as to whether General Lee and John[illegible] and the prisoners of war [illegible] tried for treason, continues to [illegible] The [illegible] the argument [illegible] Those who [illegible] the liability of Lee to trial for treason, urge that [illegible] a rebel but when the [illegible] state of war is terminated by the prostration and subjection of the rebel belligerents the prisoners of war revert to an allegiance [illegible] and are subject to the laws of their [illegible] Government, and that the laws of the United States against treason [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] arms [illegible] though they [illegible] belligerents. [illegible] a [illegible] of war as a belligerent [illegible] only [illegible] in its nature [illegible] no longer [illegible] of belligerency lasts [illegible] a man only during the same period of time.

This argument is doubtless entirely correct, but those who claim immunity for Lee and Johnston from trial for treason urge that it does not apply to the case in hand; that their immunity is based not upon any general principle applying to the status of a paroled prisoner of war, but upon a specific stipulation in the terms of surrender, by which they argue that Gen. Grant, under authority of President Lincoln, agreed that the officers and soldiers surrendered by Lee should be paroled and go to their homes and remain there unmolested so long as they should obey the laws of the United States. Doubtless, we shall have an authoritative decision of the point at issue before long.

In the meantime a Washington dispatch announces an important [illegible] by the Attorney General declaring that the Amnesty Proclamation has not [illegible] by the suppression of the rebellion; that the decrees of confiscation are in full force and that the exercise of Executive clemency cannot extend to the future. The Amnesty Proclamation [illegible] a means only to secure a specified purpose, which purpose has been accomplished. It does not restore citizenship, property or vested rights. The President has no power to pardon except for what is past. — Cor. Bulletin.

General Custar, in an order to his command, claims the capture by his cavalry division, during the last six months of one hundred and eleven pieces of artillery and sixty-five battle flags. During that time his command had never lost a flag or gun, and had invariably captured every gun which had been used against them. There have been many curious developments during this war, but nothing more curious than the use [illegible] of our cavalry for charging upon and capturing artillery.

GEN. LEE. — It is hard for the infamous Copperheads to forsake the fallen Jeff. The Sonora Democrat thus pleads for the traitor:

"Now is the hour of trial when misfortunes crowd thick upon him — his eminent services in the past should not be wholly ignored." His "eminent" services will most certainly be recollected. Do not these creatures blush to take upon themselves the ineffable disgrace of defending this monstrous ruffian?

Abraham Lincoln

FOULLY ASSASSINATED APRIL 14, 186[illegible]

You lay a wreath on murdered Lincoln's bier,
You, who with mocking pencil wont to trace,
Broad for the self-complacent British sneer,
His length of shambling limb, his furrowed face,

His gaunt, gnarled hands, his unkempt, bristling hair,
His garb uncouth, his bearing ill at ease,
His lack of all we prize as debonair,
Of power or will to shine, of art to please;

You, whose smart pen backed up the pencil's laugh,
Judging each step as though the way were plain;
Reckless, so it could point its paragraph,
Of chief's perplexity, or people's pain:

Beside this corpse, that bears for winding-sheet
The Stars and Stripes he lived to rear anew,
Between the mourners at his head and feet,
Say, scurrile jester, is there room for you?

Yes, he had lived to shame me from my sneer,
To lame my pencil, and confute my pen—
To make me own this hind of princes peer,
This rail splitter a true-born king of men.

My shallow judgment I had learned to rue,
Noting how to occasion's height he rose,
How his quaint wit made home-truth seem more true,
How, iron-like, his temper grew by blows.

How humble yet how hopeful he could be:
How in good fortune and in ill the same:
Nor bitter in success, nor boastful he,
Thirsty for gold, nor feverish for fame.

He went about his work—such work as few
Ever had laid on head and heart and hand—
As one who knows, where there's a task to do,
Man's honest will must Heaven's good grace command;

Who trusts the strength will with the burden grow,
That God makes instruments to work His will,
If but that will we can arrive to know,
Nor tamper with the weights of good and ill.

So he went forth to battle, on the side
That he felt clear was Liberty's and Right's,
As in his peasant boyhood he had plied
His warfare with rude Nature's thwarting mights—

The uncleared forest, the unbroken soil,
The iron bark that turns the lumberer's axe,
The rapid that o'erbears the boatman's toil,
The prairie, hiding the mazed wanderer's tracks,

The ambushed Indian, and the prowling bear—
Such were the needs that helped his youth to train;
Rough culture—but such trees large fruit may bear,
If but their stocks be of right girth and grain.

So he grew up, a destined work to do,
And lived to do it; four long suffering years
Ill-fate, ill feeling, ill report, lived through,
And then he heard the hisses changed to cheers,

The taunts to tribute, the abuse to praise,
And took both with the same unwavering mood;
Till, as he came on light, from darkling days
And seemed to touch the goal from where he stood,

A felon hand, between the goal and him,
Reached from behind his back, a trigger prest—
And those perplexed and patient eyes were dim,
Those gaunt, long-laboring limbs were laid to rest!

The words of mercy were upon his lips,
Forgiveness in his heart and on his pen,
When this vile murderer brought swift eclipse
To thoughts of peace on earth, good will to men.

The Old World and the New, from sea to sea,
Utter one voice of sympathy and shame!
Sore heart, so stopped when it at last beat high,
Sad life, cut short just when its triumph came!

A deed accurst! Strokes have been struck before
By the assassin's hand, whereof men doubt
If more of horror or disgrace they bore;
But thy foul crime, like Cain's, stands darkly out.

Vile hand, that brandest murder on a strife,
Whate'er its grounds, stoutly and nobly striven;
And with the martyr's crown crownest a life
With much to praise, little to be forgiven!

—Punch

Mrs Brady, her son, Mick and President Lincoln.

BY A LADY.

In October, of 1864, I left Washington by the Philadelphia cars, and being somewhat early to the depot, I noticed a decent looking Irish woman walking in a stately and somewhat pretentious manner up and down the platform that extended out of the station. She was very well dressed in a brown cloth cloak and a new velvet bonnet, beautifully trimmed, and carried moreover, in her arms two or three large parcels done up in brown paper, as goods just delivered from stores usually are. The bundles, from their number and size, were quite cumbersome, and I remember rather wondering why she chose to promenade thus burdened. Being presently engaged in leave-taking as the warning bells sounded, I lost sight of her, and finding the cars likely to be crowded, hurried in to secure a seat. From painful experience I have learned that there is an art in achieving this feat under such circumstances, for, although I determinedly thrust my way in, with resolution stamped on my brow, and resistance in my elbow, others more acute and wary slipped around and before me, and by ducking and diving and serpentining themselves through the crowd, preempted the vestiges of empty places, while I, to my confusion, stood staring on.

In my dilemma, the sight of the brown cloaked woman caught my eyes, and discovering that she had appropriated the space at her side for the reception of her bundles, I made bold to suggest that it should be yielded for my accommodation, seeing that I could find no other. She took my plea exceedingly ill, and audibly advised me "to look farther, an' not be comin' in to thramp the life out ov a body."

Affecting not to hear this unpleasant reception, I compressed myself as much as possible and encroached on her parcels so meekly that in a little while she became mollified, and remarked that "thraveling was a quare trade, any way."

To this I answered so amiably that she threw aside ceremony and became confidential. "Faith," said she, "its the first job of the kind I iver did, barrin' cromin' the say dhirst from the ould country. Some way I don't take to it at all, at all. Since I left me dacint home three days ago, I've been dray this way and that way, till I don't know what side of me is uppermost." She wiped her face at this juncture on a bright colored silk handkerchief, and concluded by saying devoutly "But, glory be to God, I've come by no hurrum but, contrary-wise, I've been received and trated by the best in the land as well as if I was a born lady."

After this mysterious speech she pursed up her mouth and drew herself up with great importance, leaving me to marvel as to what style of high life and graciousness she had seen. [illegible] She was too full of her theme to [illegible] quiet, as it proved, for she presently said in a tone of lowered importance? "Did iver ye see the President?"

I answered in the affirmative.

"So did I myself," she said; and drawing off a little she looked me full in the face as she added, "But did ye iver spake wid him?"

"He has spoken to me," I confessed, much surprised at the manner of this inquisition.

Then she bursted out swelling with pride "Troth so he did me, and he did more nor that, he shuk me by the hand, an' [illegible] an' he laughed an' joked wid me, an' was just as free and aisy as if we had been born on the same sod." Here she [illegible] overcome by the remembrance of the delight of the scene, and clasping her hands and rolling up her eyes, could only murmur, "He's born an' bred a jintleman!"

Knowing how much the people of old Erin mean by the word, and what amount of praise it conveys when spoken by them, I was curious to know in what manner it was earned by Abraham Lincoln from this good woman. It was worth listening to as she told it, but it is merely pressing leaves to transcribe speech, Irish dialect particularly—the bloom and fragrance of voice and manner being gone, there is nothing but a meagre skeleton of the thought.

"I'm the mother of Michael Brady, of the Twenty ninth Pennsylvania Volunteers," she said, "an' a sore heart the boy give me whin he came walkin' in wid his papers in his pocket, an' tould me as bould as ye plase, that he was a son of Uncle Sam. Mick, ses I, what do you mane, ses I, yer father was Peter Brady, an' his father was Patrick, whativir is come over ye that you're denyin' the father that owns ye—are ye dhrunk? For ye see, ma'am," (this she acknowledged in a confidential whisper), "dhrunk is a fashion ov Micks, or what ye might call a weakness, but other ways he's jist as good as gold, an' quiet as a lamb."

A retrospect of her son's virtues here indulged in, overcame her almost to tears. "I'm a widdy woman, ma'am," she said in explanation "an' he's the apple ov me eye an' the hope ov me heart."

But conquering her emotion, she proceeded: "Well, ye see, it turned out to be a name they have for the States ov Amoriky, an' Mick was a soldier wid a shute ov blue that was short in the arms and legs for him, an' a cap that wouldn't draw over his ears. I'll tell ye, ma'am, as I tould the President, that when I heard my Mick say he was goin' off to lay down his life for the stripes an the stars I was mad enough. So I jist set an' riz a hillaballo, an' ses I [illegible] yer goin' to be murdered for them that scorns ye, [illegible] calls ye poor Pat' an' laughs at ye for bein a bog trotter. [illegible] it's a little thanks they'll give ye whin ye come walkin' home widout a head on yer shoulders, or maybe a leg to stand on, an' what'll become ov me left alone to struggle agin the world? But Mick was [illegible] talkin mighty big owin' to the sup ov dhrink that was in him: 'The country adopted me an' its meself that will defend her in her hour ov parril.' 'She hid?' sez I, 'well I'm behouldin' to her, an' I would fain [illegible] so, if I had iver seen the worth [illegible] from her. [illegible] Mick, [illegible] the valuation ov a pair ov breeches have I had [illegible] her since the day yer father left me a widdy wid yo to provide for. But Mick would not hear raison at all but kept a botherin' away [illegible] the work an the pay ov Amerika bein a [illegible] Irishmen, an' all the comfort I got out ov it was that the fool boy had 'listed, an' that, as his regiment would leave the next day, I'd soon see the last ov him.

I went to his Colonel, a nice, respectable, grey haired jintleman an' he tould me he would do what he could to kape him out of harm's way, though he hoped the lad had spirit enough to know his duty. 'That's it, Colonel dear,' ses I, 'if ye'll kape spirits out or his way there will be no harm doing, but if he gets a sup there's nothin' but him and I [illegible] murder plazes him!' Well, the ould jintleman was very kind, an' he promised to befriend the boy an' send a little ov his wages to help me along. Mick himself said I should have every cint ov it, but I knew if there was whisky to the fore it's little money would come my way. To make a long story short, he went off an' left me heart broken, an' if it hadn't been for a neighbor woman or two that come in an' set wid me, an' made a dhrop ov something to lift me spirits it would been a black day indeed.

My Mick [illegible] a good soldier, as I know he would [illegible] 'fitin' had always been mate an dhrink to him, an' "—here she cast her eyes up reverently—"some good angel always wint wid him through danger an' saved him to bless his ould mother's heart. I've had letters from him wrote by a comrade boy, (for Mick niver could make out wid a pen) an' they was the beautiful readin'. When wan arrives the neighbors just gather in to hear, an' we got Tim Malone's boy to rade it out clear an' loud to us."

When she arrived at this part of the narrative she knit her brows, and her tone changed to one of concentrated defiance under injury and injustice. "Three weeks ago tomorrow, brought a black day ov trouble to me, ma'am, an' if it wasn't that we have the right man at the hed ov all it would bring black days for many more, but Abraham Lincoln's the boy for justice. Go to him ma'am it is for a man belongin' to ye gets into trouble: he's able an' willing to right ye. But what did I tell you how it happened.

Ye see, they were away down in Georgy, I think it was, among the naygurs, an' as Mick's comrade wrote they had but small show for eatin' and drinkin' for some time. It was hard marchin' wid empty stomachs, an' so Mick took an opportunity to slip off an' see if he could pick up a bite or sup, while they camped at some dissolute place. They say it was agin the orders to lave but what do they mane by gavin' such orders? Is the poor craythurs to be starved for fear ov bein' shot for lookin' about them? Troth, I wish I was there to spake my mind to the maker of such orders, ma'am. Mickey was in the right ov it when he slipped out in disguise, lettin' on he was carryin a message for the Captain who had often sint him before. By all accounts, Mickey fell in wid a decavin naygur that offered to show him where a barrel ov spirits was hid in a deserted hut, an' the poor boy tramped off after him, till he was that wake wid traveling an' hunger, that he nearly dropped off his feet. By the blessin' ov goodness they met a man wid a little keg ov spirits and Micky havin' his month's pay wid him, struck a bargain. Thin the thiaven' naygur an' him sot to at the whisky, and Micky wint no farther, but just took his satisfaction out ov the dhrink, and the naygur findin' him overcome robbed him an' left him lyin' wid what was left ov the dhrink in his arms stupefied wid the trouble an' long fastin he had had. I don't know how long it was before Mick come to himself, but the army had gone an' left him, an' he wandered about unaisy in his mind, till he was tuck up by a party of scouts, bad cess to thim, an' reported as a desarter. As I tould ye, I got word ov it in a letter tomorrow three weeks ago, an' whin I heard that the poor boy was to lose three months pay and may be have a chain wid a ball at the end ov it about his leg, I just tuck to my bed in grief and distress. Winter is comin' on, ye see, an its all a body can do to keep warm in these hard times. Mick had promised to sind me three months pay to buy me a good cloak and bonnet, an' ye'll allow I had enough to break my heart.

"I got a young man who writes like copperplate, to sind me a letter to the Colonel; and I sint another to Mick to cheer him up in his trouble, but at last, an' at long I thought ov the President, an' ses I to Mrs Malone, a nighbor woman ses I, "If I had the money to pay me way I'd go to Washington an' see Mr Lincoln meself." The eyes stood in her head when she heard me, but whin she saw that I was really manin what I said, she giv me her word to hilp me off. It tuck twelve dollars to pay me way back and forrad, an' the neighbors riz it among thim an' said they'd be fully paid by havin' me carry their good wishes to the President, an' makin' him sinsible of their good opinion. Mrs Malone has a sister livin' in Washington, so I was at no charge for board or lodgin', an' nuthin' standin' in me way I set out to have Micky righted at head quarters. Well ma'am, they call his place the White House, and Mrs Malone's sister conveyed me the length ov it, so that I need'nt go wrong; but whin I got to the door, I was met by a chap who tould me I couldn't see Mr Linco'n without an appointment. Ses I to him 'stand out ov me way,' ses I, 'are you set up there to talk nonsense? How can I get the appointment till I do see him?' An' I tould him my mind about his impertinence. While we were discoursin' a tall gintleman opens the door comin' down the stairs, an' I knowed him by the likeness to the badges and medals, at the first look. Ses I, Mr Lincoln, yer honor,' an' he stood still an listened to me at the first word. I drew a long breath an' tuck courage, an' ses I 'Sir, my Mick's in trouble, an' I come to ye to see him righted. Ses he, mighty aisy like, 'Well what has happened to Mick?' So I ups an tells him the whole story, an' I ends up wid 'So, sir, ye see it was a naygur got him in trouble, an' as ye take an interest in the craythurs I thought ye'd like to know ov their goins on. I mint thatas a side wipe for do you know ma am I'd niver be able to understand why a gintleman like him should befriend the dirty blacks. He took no offense but just laughed, an' ses he, Why, yer son had deserted, that's all.' 'Deserted,' ses I gettin' my blood up. 'Not a wan ov him would sleep to sich dirty work, sure it was the army deserted him, as yer honor will soon see, if ye look intil the case. He was left lying in a lonely place widout help or comfort, an they went off an' deserted him, so they did, an' an unfailin set of ruffians they wor!' 'Thin ye think Mick wronged?' ses he. 'I do' ses I, 'what harm is there in a boy's lookin' about him a bit?' 'An' the whisky,' ses he, 'was that all right?' 'Troth, no, sir,' ses I, 'there was too much of it. If it had been but a dhram or two Micky would have gone back refreshed an comfortable but ye see, sir, it was his ill luck to meet a man wid a keg full, an' Mick has sich a big spirit that he niver gives in aither fighting or dhrinkin'.' 'Is he a good soldier?' says the President. 'None better,' ses I, 'he could be a General yet if they could kape him sober; but his head is weak, but his heart is strong, an' yer honor has seen more ov the same kind widout putting a ball on their leg or takin' their three months wages from thim.' I gave him a touch there about the mistakes of the big fellows, that do worse nor my Micky, yet nobody harms a hair ov their heads. It seemed to come home to him mighty cute, for he sighed, an' ses he, 'True for ye Mrs Brady, but what can I do for ye?' 'Jist have Micky set right, an' let me have the pay the blackguards want to take away from him to get myself a warm cloak an' a dacent bonnet against a winter's day.' I spoke quick ye see, for fear he wouldn't stand much longer, for there was a carriage waitin for him, an' I was more feared ov the sarvints sendin' me off nor him, he was so plain and like. Well he just laughed, an' ses he, 'I'll see what can be done about Micky, but the bonnet an cloak I can promise you myself.'

"Well, ma'am, by this an' by that, he wrote on a paper an' giv it to a dacint looking young man, who came wid me to a big shop and bought what ye see, forby a good merino dress I have in that [illegible] an' the makings ov a set ov shirts for Micky when he comes home an' throws off his army blue. Ye mustn't think I let him go widout thankin' him, but he wouldn't stand to hear it but went off wid a wave ov his hand an' a smile that was clear beauty to me."

Here she was quite affected and having again recourse to the handkerchief, I waited until she recovered herself before asking 'Did you see him again?'

'Faith, did I,' said she triumphantly, 'I asked the man who went wid me when he would ride out again, an' he said he was goin' in the afternoon to a great dinner wid a furriner. So I went an' stood fornist the door wid my new clothes on for an hour or two, an' when he came out wid his lady at last, I stopped afore him an' ses I, 'The love of God light on yer honor ye've got a true, kind heart and deserve a peoples blessin, an' there's not a man woman or child in the place I live in but would fight through blood to the knees for ye, when I go home an' tell them how ye received me, an' tuk pity on poor Mick.' He stopped afther he handed in the lady, an' turn round ses, Good luck to ye Mrs Brady, which was more to me nor a grand spache. I'm goin' home," she concluded "wid a mighty light heart an' I'm proud of the honor I've had this day an' so will the people in our street be when I tell them."

This simple incident was afterwards corroborated by Micky's Colonel, who said that Mr. Lincoln had actually directed that erring boy's former character to be inquired into, and allowed the report of his bravery to gain him a pardon for the escapade of the whisky keg.—Bulletin.

LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED In One Minute.

New York, September 2, 1864.

J. TILMAN, Esq., 318 Battery street,
Between Commercial and Clay, San Francisco.

DEAR SIR: WE NOTICE AN ADvertisement in your daily papers respecting the security of the Lillie lock. We are aware that you well understand this lock, and, of course, will not allow yours to be annoyed by such representations. We have just sent for one of our men at the factory, and he, in our presence, opened one of Lillie's best safe locks, after it had been locked and the combination turned on,

By One Blow of the Hammer

Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the cast iron lock inside.

The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this so that your friends may not be deceived by false representations, etc.
Respectfully, etc.,
A. F. TILTON,
WM. McFARLAND.

NO PRACTICAL

Lock Picker or Thimble Rigger

OPERATE THE SAID LILLIE LOCK.

Any parties desirous of seeing the above mentioned lock, its insecurity and easy mode of opening the same, can call at

GLOUCESTER, March 26, 1864.

Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND,
Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr. Lillie, I was induced to purchase of him one of his

So Called "Fire Proof Safes,"

On the 18th of February last, a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that

Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe, with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or a thing enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed McKenna & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make) and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clothing business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire faring, however, no better than ours.
Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
(Signed.) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

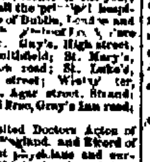
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals of Europe, among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated [illegible] are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High street, Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Mary's, Camb Place, Paddington; Lock, Harrow road; St. Luke's, Old street; University, Gower street; Westminster, Broad Sanctuary; Charring Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel road; Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DOCTOR GIBBON has also visited Doctors Acton of London, Parker of Birmingham, England, and Ricord of Paris, who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose ability is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.

DOCTOR GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment which cannot be [illegible].

DOCTOR GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with new facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, wasted and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the [illegible] of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death [illegible] the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, so that they are cured and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, who has made private disease his [illegible] for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is [illegible] to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be then careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania, and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney street, near Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.
Consultations FREE.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Preventive against Diseases and Pregnancy, sent by mail. Price $2. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney St., near Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 252.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutions in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry. It will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Doctor Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Doctor Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability [illegible] that he proposes to cure.
